

QUALITY POLICY STATEMENT

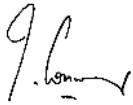

It is London Drywall's absolute commitment to provide a quality of construction service and built product that totally meets the customer's requirements; fulfilling contractual, safety, environmental, economic and quality standards and always striving for continual improvement.

Quality is a given, not an asked-for or additional extra. Quality is a consequence of our whole attitude to service provision.

In order to achieve this commitment, London Drywall's has developed an effective quality management system certified to ISO9001 standard with quality objectives that are specific, measurable, achievable, realistic and timely. These can be found within London Drywall's Quality Management Manual.

London Drywall's directors will ensure that all staff and operatives are aware of our quality commitment, the quality management system and are suitably educated and trained in order to fulfil its requirements.
